DELIVERY MODEL

How We Work

Our delivery model is disciplined, transparent and proportionate to the nature and risk of each engagement. It is designed to protect relationships while maintaining momentum and accountability.

1. Listen and Define. We establish the client's objective, decision criteria, scope, stakeholders, timescale and non-negotiable requirements.
2. Verify and Assess. We review available corporate, commercial and technical information, identify gaps and apply proportionate due diligence before material introductions are made.
3. Structure the Engagement. We clarify responsibilities, procedures, deliverables, communication routes, confidentiality arrangements and decision gates.
4. Connect the Right Parties. We introduce suitable stakeholders only where there is a credible alignment of capability, authority and commercial interest.
5. Coordinate Execution. We support meetings, document exchange, partner communication, procurement activity and project milestones through an agreed process.
6. Monitor and Improve. We maintain clear reporting, manage emerging issues and refine the engagement approach as requirements develop.

Who We Serve

- Government departments, public agencies and state-linked institutions
- Family offices, institutional investors and strategic capital partners
- Manufacturers, producers, refineries, exporters and international buyers
- Prime contractors, specialist solution providers, developers and project sponsors

Our value lies in creating clarity between parties, protecting trust, identifying material risks early and maintaining a professional route from introduction to implementation.

TRUST FRAMEWORK

Governance & Responsible Business

ACTS recognises that confidential information, corporate reputation and stakeholder trust are among the most valuable assets entrusted to us. Governance is therefore embedded in the way we receive information, assess opportunities and coordinate professional relationships.

Confidentiality & Information Management

- Strict confidentiality: information is used only for the purpose for which it was provided, unless otherwise agreed in writing.
- Controlled access: sensitive documentation is made available only to authorised personnel and relevant professional advisers.
- Need-to-know principle: internal and external disclosure is limited to what is necessary for the agreed engagement.
- No unauthorised disclosure: documents are not copied, distributed or released to third parties without appropriate authority, subject to legal obligations.

Professional Due Diligence

Our proportionate, risk-based review may include corporate identity, beneficial ownership, authorised signatories, licences, product or asset ownership, origin and export documentation, commercial procedures, financial structures, sanctions exposure, anti-money-laundering risk and the credibility of logistics or custody arrangements. Where appropriate, ACTS may request independent verification or engage qualified legal, compliance, technical or financial professionals.

Ethics, Sustainability & Responsible Sourcing

We support ethical conduct, transparent communication, responsible procurement and commercial practices that contribute to long-term economic value. Where relevant, we consider environmental impact, efficient resource use, supply-chain integrity and the interests of affected communities. ACTS does not tolerate bribery, misrepresentation, falsified documentation or pressure to bypass legitimate verification procedures.

Scope statement: ACTS acts as a strategic adviser, commercial coordinator and relationship facilitator. It does not hold itself out as a bank, investment manager, law firm, refinery, assay laboratory, carrier or custodian. Any regulated or specialist activity is undertaken by appropriately authorised independent parties.

PARTNERSHIPS

International Outlook

ACTS is UK-registered and internationally focused. Our current engagement perspective spans the United Kingdom, Europe, the Middle East and Africa, supported by relationships with businesses, institutions, advisers and specialist service providers across those markets.

We do not measure reach simply by geography. We measure it by the quality of the relationships we build, the credibility of the counterparties we introduce and our ability to bring together the right expertise for each opportunity. ACTS favours carefully selected, long-term partnerships over short-term or purely transactional activity.

Our Partnership Philosophy

- Mutual respect and clearly defined responsibilities
- Transparent procedures and realistic commercial expectations
- Protection of confidential and proprietary information
- Verification before commitment and accountability throughout delivery
- Shared value, sustainable growth and enduring cooperation
